THE BANKERS.

Proceedings of the Saratoga Convention.

Synopsis of Comptroller John Jay Knox's Address.

Thrilling (?) Appeal for Reduction of Taxes.

Statistics as to Circulation and Deposits.

Saratoga, Aug. 7.—The proceedings at the bankers' convention began to-day by John J. Knox, comptroller of the currency, reading a paper on banks and the banking system.

Mr. Knox introduced his paper by giving the number of banks and bankers and the amount of their capital and deposits, as follows:

Geographical No. Banks. Capital. Deposits.

New England 555 $1,116,805 $4,887,725

Middle States 182 677,088,918 544,075,533

South States 520 3,568,029 47,774,071

West States 1,732 4,470,286 123,284,760

Pacific States 277 34,148,094 101,622,891

United States 4,400 205,382,882 1,042,791,500

Speaking of the taxation of banks and bankers, the comptroller said one of the evil results of the system has been to largely increase the rates of interest in the rural districts and thus to place its burden upon the people who, of all others, are least able to bear it. Bank taxes, state and national, have been most arbitrary and unjust—in many cases in the collection of twice or three times the amount imposed upon other capital, while the law provides that it shall be exactly the same. Its evil effects are seen in the rapid reduction of banking capital which has taken place. The tax upon deposits should long ago have been repealed and if the carefully prepared tables and sound arguments in favor of such repeal, which have been so frequently given by this association, had received the favorable consideration from Congress to which it is believed they are entitled, it would have long since been accomplished. Why, then, has not the desired legislation been obtained?

The two and only reasons are the following:

1. The income from the tax has been needed by the government.

2. An unreasonable prejudice has been excited against the banks.

The first named reason has abundant answer in the $14,000,000 saved the government during the last two years, though largely at the expense of the banks, who were large holders of United States bonds.

The prejudice against banks in this country has undoubtedly partly arisen from the losses sustained by the people in former years upon the circulating notes of these institutions, but the present generation of young men have not experienced such losses and the reasons for this prejudice must be looked for elsewhere. The refusal to loan money except upon the best security may account largely for the prejudice against banks and bankers as a class, but when good times come, and people generally are prosperous, this prejudice will cease to a large extent. The holders of bonds bearing 4 percent interest can hardly be called bloated gold bugs. Those who loan money at from 2 to 4 percent per annum cannot well be termed money sharks. I look for a change of opinion among the people in reference to banks and bankers who have survived the evil times through which you all have passed. If people change their minds the minds of members of congress will also change so that I feel quite certain the tax upon deposits will be repealed by the next congress.

The comptroller, referring to resumption, said every one feels proud of late achievements of the treasury department. No nation ever before, within 100 days, sold $557,000,000 of bonds at as low a rate of interest as 4 percent; no nation ever before in 100 days made an annual saving of $3,000,000 in interest upon its public debt. No nation ever before resumed specie payment with $668,000,000 or $670,000,000 of paper money in circulation. Never before have any people evinced such unbounded faith in the credit of the nation as has the American people during the last six months. A man cannot be found in all this land who since the resumption of specie payment, has demanded a dollar of coin because he lacked faith in the issues of the country or of the banks.

The wet nurses of the GRANT

movement are becoming discouraged.

A CORRESPONDENT of the New York

Sun nominates TILDEN and HOLLAND

for 1880.

FREE trade clubs should be organized in every township and school

district in Indiana.

It is feared that the democrats will not have over 100 majority in the next Kentucky legislature. It is very said.

The tariff imposes on the people of

the United States a greater burden

than the national, state and county

taxes combined.

In an interview with a New York

Herald reporter, Secretary SHERMAN

frankly admits that it is useless to

wave the bloody shirt in Ohio against

TOM BOWEN who, as the secretary

says, was a brave and gallant officer

and did good service in the field.

The bankers of the country are in session at Saratoga, trying to devise

ways and means to make both ends

meet. If the workingmen of the country were to hold a convention a panic

would immediately seize upon the silk

stockinged gentry. Circumstances

ACCORDING to the testimony sub-

THERE seems no reasonable ground

The difference between 5 and 6 per-

EX-GOV. DENYSON, of Ohio, is on the stump for FOSTER and insults the intelligence of his audiences by such

balderdash as this:

I desire to make this prediction in all honesty and candor, and you, my neighbors and friends, bear witness to what I say. Should the democratic party come into power, I honestly believe that the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments will be wiped out, and it will be done in this way: The supreme court of the United States will be reorganized by adding seven democrats, giving a majority of democratic judges, who will decide that the amendments are unconstitutional and void. The members from the south will then say:

He thinks the democratic candidate for president next year will be elected, no matter who he may be. He criticizes TILDEN for a lack of decision at the critical moment during the electoral conspiracy and proclaims him the weakest candidate so far as Indiana is concerned. However, he says that TILDEN or any other democrat will carry Indiana. Personally he is strong for HENDRICKS who, he believes, would carry a "solid south" besides Indiana, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, California and other northern states. GRANT, he thinks, is the weakest candidate the republicans could nominate. The senator says SHERMAN is not strong, even in Ohio. He has many warm friends in Ohio, and many bitter enemies as well. The family is unpopular on account of the spirit of arrogance it has always displayed. The senator thinks little of HAYES, who, he says, would make any cause ridiculous. Even in Ohio the republicans recognize that his administration is nothing to be proud of. Many of them are willing to see FOSTER defeated in order to rebuke HAYES and SHERMAN. In proof of this the senator read a letter from a leading Ohio republican in which this feeling is plainly manifested. Senator McDONALD thinks the Ohio election will be close, but that EWING will succeed.

When rescued it was found that one leg was broken in three places just above the ankle. It is a miracle that he escaped with his life.

AN ARKANSAS PHENOMENON.

An Aged Colored Individual who is Gradually Turning White.

Webb City, Aug. 4.—Of the seven wonders of the world the United States has furnished five—the Mammoth Cave, the Niagara Falls, the natural bridge, the Hot Springs, and last, but not least, the Ethiopian who is changing his color.

The two last belong to Arkansas, and are preeminently the most wonderful. The former are common in a small way, their magnitude making them remarkable. But the latter stands unapproached in the history of the world. The public have seen or heard of the Hot Springs, but this radical, positive and permanent change of color from a very black to a very white man, is a freak of nature unparalleled in the history of man.

This individual, Frank Jones (ex-officio colored), having lived a quiet life of thirty years (but who is now fifty-five years old), five miles south of Ozark, Franklin county, Ark., the public know nothing of this phenom-

non. He was born black, of black parents, and remained so until he was nearly grown, when a white spot resembling that of a lamb appeared on his breast, and from that the spots spread in each direction. He is now a spotted man, being about half black and half white, and becoming more and more white all the time. The spots are very decided, the white being very white and the black very black, except those that are undergoing the change from black to white, which are of a grayish yellow. He is in perfect health every way. I regard him as absolutely the greatest wonder of the age.

FOREIGN FLASHES.

The Chilean blockade at Iquique has been raised.

English naval officials say the movements of the British fleet in Boska Bay have no political significance.

The Channel squadron in the Mediterranean the past eighteen months has returned to Plymouth.

Chatenoy's near Strasburg, was half burned Wednesday. Over 20,000 peasants are rendered homeless. Loss, 1,000,000 marks.

Water burst into the Ludwig Glueck mine at Zabrze collieries, Russia. Two corpses were recovered. Eleven are supposed to be in the pit.

Seven members of the Spanish socialist organization have been arrested in Xeres, charged with killing sheep and setting fire to standing crops.

The magistrates of the county of Westmeath, Ireland, call upon the government to increase the constabulary force and give the executive additional powers in consequence of the increase of crime.

Keeth Johnson, leader of the expedition to explore the head of Lake Ugasa, died of dysentery on the 25th of June at Berberoa, 130 miles inland from Darassalaani. The expedition will be continued by Thompson, scientific assistant of Johnson.

The discontent recently manifested among the garrisons on the Greek frontier, has spread to the troops at Constantinople. The discontented regiments want an increase of pay and part of the garrison require Osman Pasha, minister of war, to resign. In consequence of these events the troops occupying Ichaltajda have been recalled to Constantinople.

No political consequences of immediate importance are expected to arise from the death of the young sister of the King of Spain, but it is stated that this additional bereavement will have a tendency to still further plunge the king in the melancholy which has afflicted him since the death of his wife, and will have the effect of indefinitely postponing the arrangements for his second marriage, which has now been in contemplation for some time. This postponement may have some remote consequences of considerable importance. The health of the young king is not good. His tenure of life is not strong. He has been exposed, moreover, to a greater extent than is generally supposed, to the danger of assassination. It should be remembered that his life has already been once attempted, and there are evidences that secret assassins have through their occult agency, brought about successive attempts on the lives of Emperor William, the czar, king of Italy and the king of Spain, are fully resolved to keep up their work of intimidation and murder. Should King Alfonso be carried off by disease or by the hand of an assassin before he again marries and without having any heirs of his own issue to the throne, political complications of a serious character will follow. The king's advisers have for some months urged him constantly to contract another marriage in order that these evils might be, if possible, averted, but the death of his sister has now postponed, if not altogether frustrated these designs. Rumors concerning a disposition on the part of King Alfonso to abdicate and retire to private life are again in circulation.

The collar and elbow wrestling match for $2,000 between James E. Owens of Vermont and John McMahon of New York, was won easily by the latter.

Thieland Baur has signed articles of agreement for a Greco-Roman wrestling match with Andre Christoe for $250 a side and the championship of America, the match to take place in Kansas City next Saturday night.

Courtney knows nothing of the proposition to row Haulan at Saratoga next month, and until it is directly made to him, will not express himself on the subject. There is, however, little doubt he will accept any reasonable proposition to meet the Toronto oarsman at Saratoga or anywhere else.

A Toronto correspondent telegraphs that Haulan says he knows nothing about the proposition to have a race at Saratoga between him and Courtney. He says he will not row there for $3,000, when other places are making better offers. He says a gentleman with him last week who offered him $3,000 for a race between him and Courtney on Lake Chautauque. He wants a purse of $10,000 to tempt him into training. He goes to Niagara on Thursday to arrange a race to be rowed there for a silver cup, presented by the lady guests of the Queen's Royal Hotel, of that place.

At a meeting of the National Rifle Association, the committee on fall meeting submitted the draft of a programme of matches for that occasion, and recommended a prize list upon the plan of a large increase in the number of prizes in individual competitors, believing a number of small money prizes to be more acceptable to competitors than the old plan of purchasing trophies. In view of the difficulty in procuring donation prizes, the number of matches has been reduced to the lowest possible limit so the meeting may be closed in four days, thus enabling competitors from a distance to attend the meeting and return to their homes within a week. The meeting opens September 16th and continues four days.

Buffalo Races: The second day's meeting was characterized by those features that have done so much to bring trotting into disrepute. In the 2:27 class the grey gelding, Charles Benson, very speedy, and believed able to turn the track handsily in 2:20, was beaten two heats in 2:27 and 2:25. His driver was then changed, on complaint of his backers, and he won two heats in 2:25, although almost dead lame. His owners claim he was sent for all he was worth and strongly objected to having the driver changed. Benson was drawn on account of lameness. The 2:28 race was an exhibition of the most shameful jockeying by the drivers of Low Scott, Grey Salem and Dick Wright to beat the mare Emma B, and assisting Emmans to win, that has ever been witnessed upon the track. Their efforts were however, unsuccessful, owing to the time taken for these two races. The 2:35 class race was not finished. The following is the summary: 2:37 class, Emma B, 1st; Envy 2nd, Benson drawn, Mollie distanced; time, 2:27, 2:27, 2:25, 2:25, 2:24; third and fourth money went back to the association.

Post Master General Key has ordered free delivery at Springfield, O., after September 1st.

The secretary of the treasury has decided to remit all fines and penalties incurred by the Memphis and St. Louis Packet Company by carrying an excess of passengers during the exodus.

A dispatch from Bismarck says Sitting Bull will be out of buffalo meat this month, and there is some talk of his surrendering. Miles's scouts are scouring the country with the hope of keeping the buffaloes south.

Advices from Alaska are to the effect that the season has been very late. On the Asiatic side strongest winds prevailed, piling up the ice in such a manner as to render it impossible that Nordenskjold's steamer Vega, from the Arctic sea should have succeeded in working out.

There has been a decrease in the number of cases of pleuro-pneumonia among the cattle in New Jersey. There are now 796 cattle in quarantine. The disease appeared in a malignant form in Burlington county, and a strict quarantine has been established at the ferries from Pennsylvania.

This government having called the attention of the German government to the annoyances and threats of loss of property that Carl Gerhard Boisselier, a naturalized citizen of the United States, was subjected to because his two sons living in St. Louis would not report for enrollment in the German army, the authorities of Germany have given a decision in favor of the Boisseliers. When Boisselier, Sr., returned to Germany he took his two sons with him, but they came back to this country before becoming of age. The father remained in his native land.

The secretary of the navy has awarded medals of honor to David M. Buchanan and John Hayden, apprentices of the United States navy, for gallant conduct displayed by them in saving the life of Robert Lee Roby, an apprentice on board the ship Saratoga, who, on the morning of July 15th, while his vessel was anchored off the Battery in New York, ran forward and fell overboard from the upper part of the ship, and as the tide was running a strong ebb at the time, he not being an expert swimmer, was in considerable danger. Buchanan, the apprentice, instantly sprang over the rail after him without the hesitation of an instant to remove even a portion of his clothing. John Hayden, apprentice, stripped himself and stood coolly watching the two in the water, and when he thought his services were required, made a dive and came up alongside of them and assisted them, and all three were picked up by a boat from the ship. Capt. Evans, commanding the Saratoga, made a prompt report of the occurrence to the secretary, who compliments the lads with medals and a general order.

THE RED SKINS.

Movements of the Indians on Our Northwestern Frontier.

Gen. Sheridan transmits a dispatch from Gen. Miles to Washington, and says:

"I think Colonel Miles had better occupy his present camp until September 1st, and then be permitted to return to Fort Custer and Keogh by the routes he names, and I will so direct unless the general of the army orders the retrograde movement to take place sooner. It would be well to hold fast until the good results claimed by Miles are fully consummated or assured."

The following is the substance of Gen. Miles's dispatch: "Major Walsh, of the mounted police, and Long Dog, one of the principal men of the hostiles' camp, came to this command today. They state that the hostile camp is moving north and spreading out near some lakes about eighty miles north of the line. They assure me that the hostile Indians, the Unapaches, Minneconjongs, Ogallallas, Sansacs and other tribes, estimated between five thousand and eight thousand, had decided to remain on Canadian soil; that they will make no hostile movement to this side; that they will stop raiding parties; will return all property brought to their camp, and will not hunt the buffalo nor disturb the game on this reservation, unless permitted under surveillance of our officials. In brief, that they are determined to remain in that territory under Canadian authority."

"On this assurance from a representative of the Indians and an official of the Canadian government, I should feel authorized in withdrawing my men. There can be no conflict now, unless it follows an invasion, to prevent any cause of complaint from the other side."

"I would recommend that all of our Indians, especially the River Crows, be prohibited from crossing the line for this season. It would be well to send the River Crows' annuities to the Crow Reservation instead of to Belknap and they should be changed if they have been sent to Belknap."

"There are thirty lodges of Upper Assinaboines who desire to join the Lower Assinaboines. As the Lower Assinaboines are in a prosperous condition, it would be better and more economical to move the Upper Assinaboines to that agency."

"I think it would be well to have a small permanent supply camp far from Peck during the present autumn and winter."

"In returning I would prefer moving the Keough troops by way of Elk Prairie and the head of Red Water, and the Custer troops by the Mussel Shell, as I wish to examine the practicability of that route for wagons. My command will await orders at the mouth of Little Rocky Creek."

CLERICAL SCANDAL.

A Michigan Minister Charged with Seduction and Rusticity.

Detroit, Aug. 5.—The little city of Wyandotte and vicinity, near Detroit, has been thrown into a state of excitement by the arrest of a Methodist minister as the alleged father of an unborn child of a young woman until lately employed as a domestic in his family. The facts in the case are these:

This morning a young woman named Lizzie Thiede, nineteen years of age and bearing evident signs that she was en ventre, called at the office of Richard Jones, a justice of the peace at Wyandotte, and commenced an action against Edward Barry, of Belleville, in this county, for bastardy.

The complaint states that she is an unmarried woman, and was seduced by Barry on or about the 29th of November last at Ypsilanti. The gentleman charged with this offense is a clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was stationed at Wyandotte for two years previous to September last. At the last conference he was removed to Belleville. He is about forty years of age, and has a wife and three children, two by a former wife and one by his present partner.

The girl's story is that she went to work for the family last summer, and on September 27th last, accompanied them to their new home in Belleville. After working there ten weeks she was discharged by Barry against the will of Mrs. Barry, who told her that she wanted her to stay. Mr. Barry on or about the 20th of November, took her in a buggy to Ypsilanti, which was the nearest railroad station, and six miles distant from his residence, for the purpose of allowing her to go home to Wyandotte by rail. While at the hotel he committed the act above referred to; by which she became en ventre. She says that criminally commenced by Wyandotte, and supposing she was en ventre before she was discharged, she so informed Barry, who cautioned her to tell nobody, or he would lose his position.

Whether the story be true or false, Lizzie is in a deplorable position, as her family, who are poor Germans with a large family, refuse to allow her to leave home, and she must go away somewhere else and not disgrace the family.

movement are becoming discouraged.

A CORRESPONDENT of the New York

Sun nominates TILDEN and HOLMAN

for 1880.

FREE trade clubs should be organized in every township and school

district in Indiana.

It is feared that the democrats will

not have over 100 majority in the next Kentucky legislature. It is very sad.

THE tariff imposes on the people of

the United States a greater burden

than the national, state and county

taxes combined.

In an interview with a New York

Herald reporter, Secretary SHERMAN

frankly admits that it is useless to

wave the bloody shirt in Ohio against

TOM EWING who, as the secretary

says, was a brave and gallant officer

and did good service in the field.

The bankers of the country are in

session at Saratoga, trying to devise

ways and means to make both ends

meet. If the workingmen of the coun-

try were to hold a convention a panic

would immediately seize upon the silk

stocking gentry. Circumstances alter cases.

ACCORDING to the testimony submitted to the congressional committee

at Cincinnati, BEN. BUTTERWORTH,

the republican congressman from that district employed the notorious EPH.

HOLLAND to see that the election was carried on honestly. BUTTERWORTH is evidently a genius.

THERE seems no reasonable ground

to doubt that the city bonds about to be issued can be disposed of at par, at a rate of interest not to exceed 5 percent.

The difference between 5 and 6 percent is $3,000 annually, and in thirty years—the probable life of the bonds

—this would amount to $90,000.

EX-GOV. DENNISON, of Ohio, is on the stump for FOSTER and insults

the intelligence of his audiences by such

balderdash as this:

I desire to make this prediction in all

honesty and candor, and you, my neighbors

and friends, bear witness of what I say.

He thinks the democratic candidate for president next year will be elected, no matter who he may be. He criticizes TILDEN for a lack of decision at the critical moment during the electoral conspiracy and pronounces him the weakest candidate so far as Indiana is concerned. However, he says that TILDEN or any other democrat will carry Indiana. Personally he is strong for HENDRICKS who, he believes, would carry a "solid south"

besides Indiana, New York,

New Jersey, Connecticut, California

and other northern states. GRANT,

he thinks, is the weakest candidate the republicans could nominate. The senator says SHERMAN is not strong,

even in Ohio. He has many warm friends in Ohio, and many bitter enemies as well. The family is unpopular on account of the spirit of arrogance it has always displayed. The senator thinks little of HAYES,

who, he says, would make any cause ridiculous. Even in Ohio the republicans recognize that his administration is nothing to be proud of. Many of them are willing to see FOSTER defeated in order to rebuke HAYES and SHERMAN. In proof of this the senator read a letter from a leading Ohio republican in which this feeling is plainly manifested. Senator

McDONALD thinks the Ohio election will be close, but that EWING will succeed.

Alice Wallace, a noted character, across the abdomen with a knife. They were engaged to be married, but Geo.

accused her of associating with other men, and she returned the compliment. Both skipped out.

Wm. J. Walden, an old man living four miles east of Spencer, was bringing a load of hay to town, on Tuesday, and when at the Narrows, a mile east of town, one wheel of the wagon broke down and the wagon turned over the bank, throwing Mr. W. some fifty feet, and the load of hay and the wagon on top of him. When rescued it was found that one leg was broken in three places just above the ankle. It is a miracle that he escaped with his life.

AN ARKANSAS PHENOMENON.

An Aged Colored Individual Who is Gradually Turning White.

Webb City, Aug. 4.—Of the seven wonders of the world the United States has furnished five—the Mammoth Cave, the Niagara Falls, the natural bridge, the Hot Springs, and last but not least, the Ethiopian who is changing his color. The two last belong to Arkansas, and are preeminently the most wonderful. The former are common in a small way, their magnitude making them remarkable.

But the latter stands unapproached

in the history of the world. The public have seen or heard of the Hot Springs, but this radical, positive and permanent change of color from a very black to a very white man, is a freak of nature unparalleled in the history of man.

This individual, Frank Jones (ex-officio colored), having lived a quiet life of thirty years (but who is now fifty-five years old), five miles south of Ozark, Franklin county, Ark., the public know nothing of this phenom-

non. He was born black, of black parents, and remained so until he was nearly grown, when a white spot appeared on his breast, and from that spot spread in each direction. He is now a spotted man, being about half black and half white, and becoming more and more white all the time. The spots are very decided, the white being very white and the black very black,

except those that are undergoing the change from black to white, which are of a grayish yellow. He is in perfect health every way. I regard him as absolutely the greatest wonder of the age.

BIG BLOWHARDS.

They Blew Frank Hake's Safe Completely Into Smithereens.

And Secured $100 In Silver For Their Trouble.

One of the most daring safe blowing robberies ever committed in this city was perpetrated last night. The locality was not particularly hazardous for such a scheme but from the looks of the safe

must have been tremendous. The robbery was committed in Frank Hake's bottling works on the corner of Harrison and Water streets.

The burglars gained an entrance into the building by climbing through the transom over the door leading into the water closet, on the west side of the building. From there by the aid of a jimmy, the door leading into the bar room was easily forced, and work on the safe was begun. Two holes were drilled in the door through which a charge of gunpowder was inserted. The charge must have been very large, as the door of the safe was blown completely off its hinges, and all the bolts blown back and sprung. The door was also torn in two and thrown out upon the floor.

The blowing was in ever particular a complete success. The robbers obtained for their trouble about $100 in silver. Had they taken pains to look through the books their reward would have been much larger, as Louis Brems, the bookkeeper, for sometime past, thinking the safe unreliable, had taken the precaution to place all the paper money between the leaves of the books, which proved a good idea, as

SEVERAL HUNDRED DOLLARS were thus saved. The safe was formerly in the city clerk's office and has been in use a number of years. The robbery was committed between two and three o'clock this morning, and the explosion was heard by Lem. Butler, who was at the time returning from a dance in Bloomington and was just putting his horse away in Trentman's stable on Harrison street. He also

who, after the blowing, came directly towards him, when he retreated into the stable and they passed on down Harrison street towards the commons.

He met Patrolman Imbeco shortly afterwards, but said nothing to him as he says he did not think it was anything more than some officer shooting a dog or something of the kind. About 4 o'clock Herman Niernman, who sleeps in Liggett's livery stable in the same building, went into the saloon by the back entrance, and on opening the door of the saloon stumbled over the safe door, and finding the lights all out and the room became frightened and ran out upon the street. Meeting Officer Lime-cool he informed him of the facts. The officer returned with him and found the room in the condition above stated.

In the afternoon two men went into the saloon and seated themselves at a table, took out paper and pencil, and appeared to be very busy in settling up some matter. Soon after this they went out. Louis Brems was in the saloon at the time, but being very busy with his books took no notice of the men further than that they were both heavy set, which is the description given of the men met by Lem Butler. Further than this no clue has been obtained. The officers are busy working up the case, and hope to capture the thieves.

Two silver watches were also taken from the safe. A number of papers, notes, etc., were carried away and very overhauled back of the coal sheds on the commons, where they were found this morning, there being nothing among them which would have been of any value to the criminals.

LATER.

Frank Falker, Hugh Diehl, Deputy Sheriff Wilkinson and Detective Brooks, of the Wabash, trucked the safe blowers to Wallen this morning and undoubtedly would have been successful in overtaking and capturing the thieves were it not for the fact that they left Wallen just before the officers arrived. It is now thought the rascals are in this city.

A Good Move.

H. J. Ash has rented the building known as the Burgess Store, four doors west of where he is now, and formerly occupied by H. N. Ward as a crockery and glassware store, and is one of the largest and best stores in the city; and in fact there is only one other as good single storehouse in the city, and that is one just like it, adjoining, owned and occupied by Rothschild Brothers as a clothing house. The store is 23 feet wide and 110 feet deep, 4 stories high with a good cellar under the entire building. Mr. Ash will fit up the building to suit his business and get moved into it by the 20th of this month, and we shall be very much mistaken if Mr. Ash does not show us one of the finest stove and house-furnishing establishments in the state. He has been very much cramped for room in his old stand and his increasing business has forced him to move. The new and well selected stock is bought and being put into the new room as it comes in. He will arrange a much larger line of goods than ever before. He has done the leading business in stove and house furnishing goods for several years, and we bespeak for him the largest and most successful business this fall and winter he ever seen in twenty years business in Fort Wayne.

A final test will be made about Saturday. John Schroeder will run her.

Father Brammer has procured some very fine views of the Cathedral and sister's house. They are beautiful, both in design and execution, and reflect great credit upon the artist. These views can be obtained at Wood's old stand or at Mr. Joqueff's, opposite the Cathedral. They should meet with ready sale as the proceeds are to be given to the poor of the city. Father Brammer is untiring in his zeal to help the poor and unfortunate.

One of Wilding & Son's teamsters was yesterday paid to remove a dead dog from the streets. He loaded him up and took him as far as the Bloomingdale bridge, where he dumped him over board, where he lay this morning, and if allowed to remain will soon be a source of great annoyance to the neighbors. The proper thing for the marshal to do would be to take Mr. driver and have him remove the nuisance to a proper place.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

A Lad's Terrible Death in a Harvest Field.

The Body Mutilated in a Sickening Manner.

Yesterday a sickening accident occurred in a field near Huntertown. The victim was Henry Eick, a lad aged fifteen years, who was working with a reaper, when he fell from his seat to the earth and was struck by the sickle bar, which cut and lacerated his body in a most terrible and shocking manner. When picked up he was dead. His right arm had been cut off at the shoulder and almost every member of his body was mutilated in a frightful manner. The parents of the unfortunate boy live at Middlebury, Ind., to which place his remains were taken for burial.

Chicago Times, Wednesday: The formal order was entered yesterday in the case of The Western Union Telegraph Company vs. The Wabash Railway and the American Union Telegraph Company, which was heard before Judges Harlan and Drummond on Saturday. The complainant sought to secure an injunction to prevent the American Union company from constructing a line along the Wabash railway. The order prevents the construction of the new line until a decision is given in the case, but the Wabash railway company is not estopped from carrying material for the new line in the interim if it chooses to do so.

Water Works and Sewers.

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

As the majority of voters are in favor of water works this gives the council the full power to control sewers, and it is their duty to establish them in every street where pipes are laid. It is of as much importance to drain the water off as it is to have the water. The council should not wait for petitions or pay any attention to remonstrances. The reason the fifth ward was the strongest in the Salt Creek expedition last Tuesday, is because we have more water now than we need and no sewers to drain it off with. No one will take water on Broadway without a sewer, even if they can get it free. Unless we get plenty of sewers the water works will fall short on income and cause nuisances. When the excavations are made, sewers can be put in first and then water pipes can be laid. The cost can be divided between the property owners and the city, in proportion. The sewers will be cheaper this way and it will prevent the constant tearing up of the streets, and would give a chance to lay Nicolson or stone pavements on business streets.

In Missouri, and I think in Indiana, the councils have the power to build sewers wherever water pipes are laid, so let us have the whole job completed now and no half way work.

A Card to the Public.

On my arrival here, in order to secure without delay the public confidence, I found it necessary to publish statements from well known reliable men of Indianapolis, Evansville, Terre Haute, Lafayette and other places—gentlemen who had been most successfully treated by me. As their names were well known in Fort Wayne I served my purpose. I was at once consulted by the very best citizens, who placed themselves under my treatment. Their names by special permission have been published, and they can be referred to as to the satisfaction given them by my treatment. Feeling assured that my reputation here is now fully established, and that there is no further necessity for expensive advertising, I withdraw the columns. I desire simply to say to all who need my treatment, especially in Catarrh, Throat, Lung and Chest Diseases, Asthma and Deafness, etc., that they can still be treated by me. Having reduced expenses, my fees from today will be within the reach of all who want my medical services in cases specially treated by me with the utmost success, and they should call at once.

BIG BLOWHARDS.

They Blew Frank Hake's Safe Completely Into Smithereens.

And Secured $100 In Silver For Their Trouble.

One of the most daring safe blowing robberies ever committed in this city was perpetrated last night. The locality was not particularly hazardous for such a scheme but from the looks of the safe

must have been tremendous. The robbery was committed in Frank Hake's bottling works on the corner of Harrison and Water streets.

The burglars gained an entrance into the building by climbing through the transom over the door leading into the water closet, on the west side of the building. From there by the aid of a jimmy, the door leading into the bar room was easily forced, and work on the safe was begun. Two holes were drilled in the door through which a charge of gunpowder was inserted. The charge must have been very large, as the door of the safe was blown completely off its hinges, and all the bolts blown back and sprung. The door was also torn in two and thrown out upon the floor.

The blowing was in ever particular a complete success. The robbers obtained for their trouble about $100 in silver. Had they taken pains to look through the books their reward would have been much larger, as Louis Brems, the bookkeeper, for sometime past, thinking the safe unreliable, had taken the precaution to place all the paper money between the leaves of the books, which proved a good idea, as

SEVERAL HUNDRED DOLLARS

were thus saved. The safe was formerly in the city clerk's office and has been in use a number of years. The robbery was committed between two and three o'clock this morning, and the explosion was heard by Lem Butler, who was at the time returning from a dance in Bloomingdale and was just putting his horse away in Trentman's stable on Harrison street. He also

SAW THE ROBBERS,

who, after the blowing, came directly towards him, when he retreated into the stable and they passed on down Harrison street towards the commons. He met Patrolman Linecolly shortly afterwards, but said nothing to him as he says he did not think it was anything more than some officer shooting a dog or something of the kind. About 4 o'clock Herman Niernan, who sleeps in Liggett's livery stable in the same building, went into the saloon by the back entrance, and on opening the door of the saloon stumbled over the safe door, and finding the lights all out and the room

became frightened and ran out upon the street. Meeting Officer Linecolly he informed him of the facts. The officer returned with him and found the room in the condition above stated.

In the afternoon two men went into the saloon and seated themselves at a table, took out paper and pencil, and appeared to be very busy in setting up some matter. Soon after this they went out. Louis Brems was in the saloon at the time, but being very busy with his books took no notice of the men further than that they were both heavy set, which is the description given of the men met by Lew Butler. Further than this no clue has been obtained. The officers are busy working up the case, and hope to capture the thieves.

Two silver watches were also taken from the safe. A number of papers, notes, etc., were carried away and were overhauled back of the coal sheds on the commons, where they were found this morning, there being nothing among them which would have been of any value to the cracksmen.

LATER.

Frank Falker, Hugh Diehl, Deputy Sheriff Wilkinson and Detective Brooks, of the Wabash, tracked the safe blowers to Wallen this morning and undoubtedly would have been successful in overtaking and capturing the thieves were it not for the fact that they left Wallen just before the officers arrived. It is now thought the rascals are in this city.

A Good Move.

H. J. Ash has rented the building known as the Burgess Store, four doors west of where he is now, and formerly occupied by H. N. Ward as a crockery and glassware store, and is one of the largest and best stores in the city; and in fact there is only one other as good single storeroom in the city, and that is one just like it, adjoining, owned and occupied by Rothschild Brothers as a clothing house. The store is 23 feet wide and 110 feet deep, 4 stories high with a good cellar under the entire building. Mr. Ash will fit up the building to suit his business and get moved into by the 20th of this month, and we shall be very much mistaken if Mr. Ash does not show us one of the finest stove and house-furnishing establishments in the state. He has been very much cramped for room in his old stand and his increasing business has forced him to move. The new and well selected stock is bought and being put into the new room as it comes in. He will arrange a much larger line of goods than ever before. He has done the leading business in stove and house furnishing goods for several years, and we bespeak for him the largest and most successful business this fall and winter he ever seen in twenty years business in Fort Wayne.

The proper thing for the marshal to do would be to take Mr. driver and have him remove the nuisance to a proper place.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

A Lad's Terrible Death in a Harvest Field.

The Body Mutilated in a Sickening Manner.

Yesterday a sickening accident occurred in a field near Huntertown. The victim was Henry Eick, a lad aged fifteen years, who was working with a reaper, when he fell from his seat to the earth and was struck by the sickle bar, which cut and lacerated his body in a most terrible and shocking manner. Chicago Times, Wednesday: The formal order was entered yesterday in the case of The Western Union Telegraph Company vs. The Wabash Railway and the American Union Telegraph Company, which was heard before Judge Harlan and Drummond on Tuesday. The complaint sought to secure an injunction to prevent the American Union company from constructing a line along the Wabash railway. The order prevents the construction of the new line until a decision is given in the case, but the Wabash railway company is not estopped from carrying material for the new line in the interim if it chooses to do so.

Water Works and Sewers.

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

As the majority of voters are in favor of water works this gives the council the full power to control sewers, and it is their duty to establish them in every street where pipes are laid. It is of as much importance to drain the water off as it is to have the water. The council should not wait for petitions or pay any attention to remonstrances. The reason the fifth ward was the strongest in the Salt Creek expedition last Tuesday, is because we have more water now than we need and no sewers to drain it off with. No one will take water on Broadway without a sewer, even if they can get it free. Unless we get plenty of sewers the water works will fall short on income and cause nuisances. When the excavations are made, sewers can be put in first and then water pipes can be laid. The cost can be divided between the property owners and the city, in proportion. The sewers will come cheaper this way and it will prevent the constant tearing up of the streets, and would give a chance to lay Nicolson or stone pavements on business streets. In Missouri, and I think in Indiana, the councils have the power to build sewers where water pipes are laid, so let us have the whole job completed now and no half way work.

D. N., FIFTH WARD.

A Card to the Public.

On my arrival here, in order to secure without delay the public confidence, I found it necessary to publish statements from well known, reliable men of Indianapolis, Evansville, Terre Haute, Lafayette and other places—

gentlemen who had been most fully treated by me. As their names were well known in Fort Wayne it served my purpose. I was at once consulted by the very best citizens, who placed themselves under my treatment. Their names by special permission have been published, and they can be referred to as to the satisfaction given them by my treatment. Feeling assured that my reputation here is now fully established, and that there is no further necessity for expensive advertising, I withdraw the columns.
